“Just and reasonable” determination for the Executive Director and Chief Financial Officer. The Board is required to determine that changes to a chief executive officer’s and chief financial officer’s compensation, including the terms of an employment agreement, are “just and reasonable.” See excerpt from California Government Code, Section 12586(g):

The board of directors of a charitable corporation or unincorporated association, or an authorized committee of the board, and the trustee or trustees of a charitable trust shall review and approve the compensation, including benefits, of the president or chief executive officer and the treasurer or chief financial officer to assure that it is just and reasonable. This review and approval shall occur initially upon the hiring of the officer, whenever the term of employment, if any, of the officer is renewed or extended, and whenever the officer’s compensation is modified. Separate review and approval shall not be required if a modification of compensation extends to substantially all employees.

The Conservancy’s Compensation and Governance Committee believes this standard has been met and recommends the Board make a declaration that the “just and reasonable” test has been met for the Executive Director and Chief Financial Officer.

Request: Board declaration that the “just and reasonable” test has been met for the Executive Director and Chief Financial Officer.
